There was a silent hush as several angry TWIT Cultural Warriors rushed forward and in some form of protest that they failed to articulate or explain beforehand; they glued themselves to several of Emil's GOF Zombie Samples and to their surprise the assembled group of Emil Fans applauded and cheered.

One self-proclaimed Emil Fan smiled and said "We made it!"

"Excuse me???"

I said truly not understanding their glee or comments about "Making it!"

The same Emil Fan explained that Emil had finally broken through and this desperate act will bring the recognition that the Starving Artist formerly known as Emil has become a serious threat to Woke Culture and "Maybe, to the greater Ahriman movement of his Great Social Reset..."

As a properly trained yellow journalist, I didn't hesitate to further enquire:

"How is that a benefit?"

Several other Emil supporters joined in the conversation by adding that such attacks from devoted, woke fanatics spouting love for Ahriman and his new world order of "anti-ownership" can only help introduce Emil to a wider audience through the FREE Nations and the growing "Consumerism" Revolution that Ahriman resistance forces are mounting not to mention the open war that has broken out between Ahriman's Antifa Militia and the Republic of Texas (ROT) out on the frontier.

The conversation spiraled into a more exclusive anti-woke political talking points and after several attempts to redirect the conversation back to this event and Emil's artwork that seems to have drawn these protesters to glue themselves to Emil GOF Zombie Samples here at the gallery opening.

In terms of transparency, we were later to discover that the previously profile Emil Fans turned out to be WWWG

I asked Mister Charles if the protesters were also WWWG Staff Members and he denied that by saying that "No one, at WWWG, cares that much about Emil as to glue themselves to actual Zombie Samples..."

Seems that the protesters were in fact, members of a Ahriman Youth Group that are upset by the fact that all of the government's efforts has failed to silence and/or banish a person that they consider to be the step-son of the Great Satan (who if you remember is

As we have frequently noted, one can never anticipate which of Emil's numerous negative behaviors will be on display during a conversation about subletting. These behaviors include sadness, stupidity, harshness, or moodiness, and there is never a suitable introduction to present the new character to the audience of Many specialists attribute his problems to his latest obsession with red curry pancake mix. However, some who have known him for longer believe that his addiction issues are recent and could be a genuine systematic effect instead of the primary cause.

After conducting extensive research, several local teams of experts reached a conclusion and provided their final recommendation in a white paper on the "Emil Situation."

The paper advised bringing in Ms. VP Harris in to address the issue. VP Harris is the world's leading expert in "root cause" research and leads the government's efforts for the Having reached the final conclusion, our next step was to seek assistance from Vice President Harris in her capacity as Anti-Hooligan Czar.

Despite numerous attempts to contact her team via phone, email, and even a video posted on Tickie-Tackie - a platform we were informed she frequently views - we were left disappointed by the lack of response from both her and her administrative staff.

By some fortunate stroke, or perhaps out of sheer desperation, we stumbled upon a conversation with some ex-classmates who presently work in the command bunker complex of Little Joey Buyhim in Delaware.

We received a call from VP Harris who informed us she was responding to our queries to uncover those responsible for orchestrating this scheme.

She concluded the call by making it transparent that she did not find the situation amusing, despite the peculiar sense of humor of President Joe and his staff.

Several weeks later, we received a response from VP Harris in the form of a couple of Venn diagrams, apparently prompted by her staff's suspicion that we might have been playing a prank.

While we appreciate her time and consideration, we found the diagrams confusing and struggled to make sense of her explicit reference to a continued theme of the little yellow school buses.

We requested clarification from her staff to confirm whether her conclusion was that Emil may have been hit by a school bus multiple times as a child, potentially explaining his current condition.

I'm unsure, could you kindly provide some guidance?

Regrettably, even the most knowledgeable experts in the Western world were also perplexed and opted to follow VP Harris' lead by scapegoating the "little yellow" school buses and tarnishing their reputation.

If I were more inclined to conspiratorial thinking, I might have concluded from media reports that blame uncontroversial "Little Yellow" school buses, that this story emphasizes Vice President Harris's overt racism, viewed by many as a direct racial slur against Asians.

I see your confusion, which was also shared by my colleagues when they brought this matter to my attention.

It seems unlikely that a historical figure like her, using the correct pronouns "she" and "her", and engaging with a vast network of Birthing People across the nation (although Please, take a moment to reflect.

The racial slurs "yellow" and "small" are long-standing trigger words and dog whistles that have been in use for generations, predating her upbringing in the challenging neighborhoods of Canada's elite.

To this point, it could be argued that the individual in question is not entirely at fault for her attitudes towards individuals of Asian descent, given that, like many of Canada's less privileged

However, it is important to note that her current beliefs have been influenced by her lack of exposure to such individuals, despite her claims that her keen psychic abilities allow her to foresee future events, such as Tupac's debut album a decade before its actual release.

What, she is Canadian?

Well, I hear you and far be it from me to disagree with your comment(s) as to how this explains a lot about her; let me say that her youth in high

Further, I might note the truth that in the country where she grew up, even the Prime Minister as a young university student would paint his face black and pretend to be Michael Jackson, who he claims wasn't gay, in the hopes of picking up unsuspecting young Canadian college girls.

I have been told that it's a Canadian culture.

I'd like to add that Justin got lucky that his father was then (also) the Prime Minister and in this role, he prohibited gossip publications like the National Enquirer from running stories about MJ's sorted, wild and raucous years.

As a consequence, most Canadians remained unaware of Michael's dark side and viewed him as a cool guy who mingled with Paul McCartney.

However, after watching the video on TMZ, I must concede that the Prime Minister executed an impressive moonwalk, complete with Michael Jackson's iconic high kick dance move. It is truly remarkable, as most young men would find such a move excruciatingly painful. Based on the footage from TMZ, this does not seem to be an issue! Nonetheless, the gallery voted

Finally, I asked Emil for his thoughts on VP Harris's various conclusions.

He expressed support for the idea in principle but noted that there were no "little" or "yellow" school buses during his childhood or school years.

Let me add that he was initially taken aback by my questions, perceiving them to be rude. However, he later disclosed that he had previously written

He claimed his misanthropic tendencies and reputation as a rebel was a result of his upbringing amongst savage wolves, offering a possible explanation for his unpleasant behavior during meals.

I shall refrain from any further comment.
